

In the Millinery Store (Second Floor) Another Novelty A Polished Black Ribbon With the Highest Glaze Finish

"Lacquer" is the name that the French milliners have given to this new ribbon.

"Stove Polish" is the nickname that the American millinery trade have called it.

It is shown on the newest imported Paris hats. All the latest Paris fashion news by cable letters again and again to this newest patent leather glaze ribbon.

At the races at Auteuil it was the dominant note on the hats that were worn.

Another Paris fashion writer calls attention to the exclusive use of Lacquer ribbon on Leghorn Hats.

The leading New York milliners, those whose judgment counts, have taken it up and are using Lacquer ribbon in new and striking effects.

LAW SUIT SUDDENLY ENDS

Des Moines Juror Negotiates with Each Side for Verdict.

COURT AT ONCE STOPS TRIAL

Large Sum in Commissions Involved and Judge Orders Investigation of Charges Made of Man's Misconduct.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, March 20.—(Special Telegram.)—A lawsuit that has been on trial in district court for seven weeks came to a sudden termination today when an accusation was made that one of the jurors had been negotiating with both of the contending parties with reference to the verdict.

It was the case of Powers & Way against A. E. Hollingsworth, involving the sale of $200,000 of mining stock and the effort on the part of plaintiffs to secure commissions on the same in large amount. The attorneys made the open charge as to the misconduct of one juror and the court dismissed the case and ordered investigation.

ONE OF IOWA'S STAR ENDS GIVEN JOB BY GOVERNOR

AMES, Ia., March 20.—(Special Telegram.)—Dr. Bernard J. Lattimer of Hancock, Ia., a practicing veterinarian, who, in his student days at Ames was recognized as one of the greatest ends that ever played on a western gridiron, yesterday was appointed by Governor Clarke as an assistant to the state veterinary surgeon. Lattimer was one of the most deeply ticklers Iowa ever produced. Recently he tackled matrimony, marrying a Iowa girl.

JURY TAKES LARGE BEQUEST FROM HANDS OF LAWYER

WATERLOO, Ia., March 20.—(Special Telegram.)—O. B. Courtwright, former state senator and an attorney for over forty years in Blackhawk county, was today deprived of a $5,000 bequest made in the will of Miss Bessie Graham, spinster of 74 year. A jury was out twenty-nine hours before returning with a verdict in favor of two stepbrothers, Theodore of this city and William J. Graham of Cedar Falls. It was claimed that undue influence was exerted by the defendant when he drew the will, but the jury paid high tribute to the lawyer's character and declared him innocent of fraud.

DEATH RECORD.

Christian S. Hoar. GLENWOOD, Ia., March 20.—(Special.)—Christian S. Hoar, aged 62 years, died at his home in Glenwood, last evening. Mr. Hoar was taken sick suddenly at his home with apoplexy. He has been proprietor of the "Tovalee-Morgan" restaurant and bakery and was formerly in the novelty business after coming here from Norfolk, Neb., where he was in general merchandise. He leaves a widow, one son, Carl, in business with his father, and one daughter, Mrs. E. C. Schaeffer, whose husband is in business at Missouri Valley, Ia. Short services were held at the home here today, followed by interment at Missouri Valley, Saturday.

TEXAN ESCAPES MEXICANS

American Gets Away from Bandits by Diving into Rio Grande.

COLQUITT RECEIVES THE REPORT

United States Cavalrymen Conduct Search for Score of Federal Sympathizers Crossing Line South.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 20.—Charles Ballard, an American, was kidnaped by Mexicans Wednesday from Carrizo Springs, Tex., and escaped by diving into the Rio Grande river, according to dispatches today to Governor O. B. Colquitt. The governor has wired to know whether Texas rangers are needed in the Carrizo Springs territory.

The kidnaping was reported by W. T. Gardner, sheriff of Dimmitt county, of which Carrizo Springs is the county seat. This town is about thirty-five miles from the border. Gardner's telegram to the governor, dated March 19, reads: "Charles Ballard, American, was kidnaped from city yesterday morning at 9 o'clock by five Mexicans and led by rope around neck and hands tied behind him to Rio Grande river, at mouth of San Ambrosia creek, near San Pedro ranch. When led into river he cut the rope, freed himself and diving down stream escaped to Mexican side, where was shot at several times, but not hurt. He plunged into the river, diving down, swam to American side and escaped to San Pedro ranch, four miles from Rio Grande. All indications point to federal Mexican soldiers. Have sent for Ballard. Will arrive tomorrow evening."

Another message advised the governor that a Mexican bandit had robbed a store in Cometa, Tex., Monday night, and had been captured. Cometa is in Zavilla county. Eagle Pass lies between Zavilla county and the nearest way to the border.

American Colonist Robbed. E. L. Taylor, an American colonist, arrived at El Paso today by way of Columbus, N. M., with a story of mistreatment at the hands of bandits operating around Colonia Juarez, a Mexican colony in Chihuahua state. Taylor said he fled to save his life, leaving behind his family and property.

Bandits under Manuel Gutierrez raided the American colony a week ago, said Taylor. They entered his home and he fought desperately, wounding one of the Mexicans in the hand. Taylor said he fired from behind the family organ, which was demolished by bullets, and that finally he was overpowered and sentenced to death. Later Gutierrez decided that he must pay $500, and confiscating $1,000 on grain and stock, told Taylor to leave the country at once.

The Gutierrez band recently raided the American lumbering town of Pearson, and has been operating, the American colonist said, without interference from Villa's insurgent soldiers. Gutierrez formerly was second in command under Maximino Castillo, now held a prisoner at Fort Bliss, Tex.

Disorder Near Brownsville. BROWNSVILLE, Tex., March 20.—Twenty United States cavalrymen are conducting a search at a point on the Rio Grande twelve miles from here for a score of Mexican federal sympathizers who crossed the border, killed a constitutional soldier and returned to the United States. Confirmation of the report that a federal soldier had been killed was received today at the customs house here. Reports that federal sympathizers in the United States are organizing filibustering expeditions has resulted in increased activity by the border patrol. Captain Smith, commanding a company of cavalry at Rio Grande City, has been notified to watch for one expedition reported being organized between Roma and Rio Grande City.

Charges that shots are fired frequently across the river at his men have been made by General Pablo Gonzalez, federal commander in Matamoros, to the American consul there. He declared he could not be held responsible if his men returned the fire.

Embargo at Torreon Still On. JUAREZ, Mex., March 20.—No news was received here today to indicate that General Villa's forces had done more than to prepare for the impending assault on Torreon.

Correspondents at the front still were unable to pierce the iron-clad embargo on press dispatches.

O'Shaughnessy Goes to Vera Cruz. MEXICO CITY, March 20.—Mr. O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires, admitted today that he was seriously considering the question of resigning. He says, however, that if he does resign, it will be because of his bad state of health. Mr. O'Shaughnessy's physician is not optimistic regarding his patient's early recovery from his attack of sciatica. Some wonderment has been aroused here by the knowledge that Mr. O'Shaughnessy will go to Vera Cruz tonight accompanied by Thomas B. Hoehler, British charge d'affaires here.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy says that if his state of health permits it he will return to the federal capital on Monday. He denies any knowledge of a conference between John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson, and Jose Lopez Portillo, yRojas, the Mexican foreign minister. Senator Portillo was reported today to be at Orizaba.

VILLA INVESTS STRONGHOLD OF FOE AT TORREON

marked their progress over hummocks of cast-iron sand, and through dry water courses. Great tank wagons laden with the water supply, which has been General Villa's greatest problem, rumbled in the train, the wheels at times almost hub deep in the sand. In these emergency branches of the tough mesquite wheels, sturdy peons put hands to the spokes, there were streams of profanity addressed to mules in a language said to be in this respect the most adequate in the world, and the columns would proceed.

The lips of the few foreigners in the army were cracked and swollen from the heat and alkali dust, but the Mexicans, trained to such conditions, covered their mouths with folds of their blankets and fared better. All eyes were bloodshot.

Outskirts Reached. In this way amid all the suffering which the harshest waste of arid land in Mexico can furnish, the outskirts of Torreon were reached.

There was no opposition and General Villa stated that there has been none since he began to repair the railroad south of Jimenez. The federals contented themselves with strewn all possible obstacles with folds of their blankets and fared better. All eyes were bloodshot.

General Villa was everywhere, for now that the eve of the battle is at hand, he is a fury of energy, now grabbing the halter of a refractory mule, now criticizing the lashing of a pack saddle, or snapping orders at a lesser leader. He went from point to point in his private car attached to a light engine, where he mounted his saddle, that was awaiting.

"Mine in Week." "Torreon will be mine in a week," he exclaimed jubilantly. "Never has a revolutionary army in Mexico had better men, and never have they been so thoroughly equipped. Every preparation has been made and we can't fail."

It is no figure of speech to say that the light of battle burned in the rebel leaders' eyes. They are extraordinarily wide set so that when he looks at a visitor at close range they seem almost to cross, but their dark depths, always glowing some actually to flame in moments of excitement.

His subordinate rarely ever argues with him and in such moments never. It is a danger signal, one which the Scotchman Benton is said to have failed to heed.

Angelos Named Second. General Felipe Angeles, chief of the artillery corps, was named second in command to take full charge in the event of the death or incapacitation of General Villa. Angeles is a member of General Carranza's cabinet and was detached at Villa's urgent solicitation to participate in the battle. He is a veteran expert of the big gun arm of the service and many an artillery officer in the enemy's ranks at Torreon received his schooling from him. His loyalty to Madero's memory has endeared him to the rank and file of the troops.

General Aguirre Benavides was placed in command of the disposition of troops, although Angeles, himself, selected the position for his guns. They were trained on the hillsides, while soldiers bustled themselves throwing up banks of sand around them and caves were dug to store the ammunition. In the latter there is a supply of home-made shrapnel, which the soldiers refer to as "Villa's pills."

LANSING TO SUCCEED MOORE

Editor of Law Journal Will Be Counsellor to Bryan.

CONE JOHNSON FOR SOLICITOR

Texas Lawyer Will Succeed Joseph Folk in Other Vacancy in State Department—White House Issues Statement.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Wilson today nominated Robert Lansing of Watertown, N. Y., to be counselor for the Department of State, succeeding John Bassett Moore, and Cone Johnson of Texas to be solicitor for the department, succeeding Joseph W. Folk.

Mr. Lansing is an associate editor of the American Journal of several works on international law and the author of several works on international law. He will succeed John Bassett Moore. He is 50 years old, was associate counsel for the United States in the Behring sea arbitration, 1892-93; counsel for the United States in the Behring sea claims commission, 1896-97; solicitor for the United States on the Alaskan boundary tribunal, 1903; counsel in the arbitration at The Hague in 1909 of the north Atlantic coast fisheries case. His home is in Watertown, N. Y.

Mr. Johnson, who will succeed Joseph W. Folk as solicitor, is about 55 years old and, according to the statement issued from the White House today, is "one of the most brilliant lawyers in Texas. He was a candidate for the United States senate once, but retired from the contest on account of ill health. The White House described him as "one of the leading factors in progressive democracy of Texas."

With the naming of a new counselor and a new solicitor, all the vacancies in the State department will have been filled, a new third assistant secretary of state—William Phillips—having recently been nominated.

Mr. Lansing is a son-in-law of former Secretary John W. Foster of the State department, a warm personal friend of long standing of John Bassett Moore, whom he succeeds, and now is the agent for the United States in the British-American pecuniary claims commission, now in session here.

PETER E. NAREY DIES OF HEART DISEASE

SPIRIT LAKE, Ia., March 20.—Peter E. Narey, 70 years old, former deputy revenue collector for the northern Iowa district, including Sioux City, died last evening at his home here of heart disease. Through his services as deputy revenue collector Mr. Narey was widely known in northern Iowa. He was appointed a deputy collector during the administration of President McKinley and served several terms. He had lived in Dickinson county thirty-five years.
